

New Line of Greeting Cards Encourage Individuals to Dream

Proceeds From Cards Also Support Educational Scholarships for Young People

(For Immediate Release – October 31, 2009) When recording artist Anthony Brown wrote and released a song entitled Dream, he sensed the song's message would resonate with individuals from all walks of life. Now, three years later the song has resulted in the creation of a non-profit foundation, Dream 4 It. And, this month, the Foundation releases a series of greeting cards which also encourage persons to dream.

“DreamCards are intended to encourage and inspire,” according to Foundation president Anthony Brown. “The cards’ messages are comprised of the lyrics of some of the inspirational songs I have been blessed to write and record.” The songs, which include Dream and A Gift in You, are played regularly on local radio stations, including Heaven 600. A Christmas song recorded by Anthony, Send Your Love For Christmas, will be featured on a WBAL Radio Holiday Promotion this year

Cards, which are available for Birthdays, Christmas, Encouragement and Bereavement, are available on-line at www.dream4it.net and at Baltimore area locations where fine cards and gifts are sold. Single cards are priced at $1.00 each and sets of 12 cards (same or assorted) are available for $10.00. For more information, call 443-472-3311. Special bulk pricing is available for retailers.

The Dream 4 It Foundation raises funds for educational scholarships. Since 2008, the Foundation has awarded some $6,000.00 in scholarships.
